I submitted my FAFSA. Now what?

1. You will receive a confirmation page immediately after submitting your FAFSA stating that your FAFSA has been submitted. This will provide you with an estimate of federal grant and federal loan awards.
2. You will receive a confirmation e-mail 3-5 days after submitting your FAFSA stating that your FAFSA has been processed. At this time, each college to which you submitted your FAFSA will receive your information and begin developing a financial aid award based on it.
3. If your and/or your parents' adjusted gross income or family circumstances have changed since filing your taxes two years ago, contact each of your college's financial aid departments to complete a "Special Circumstances Appeal."
 - a. Watch your e-mail for requests for verification from one or more of the colleges that accepted you. Complete all of the paperwork promptly and return to the colleges.
4. Watch for Financial Aid Award Letters from each of the colleges you added to your FAFSA. Most will appear on each college's student portal. If you need help deciphering these Award Letters, contact your College Now advisor at your school or in the Resource Center.
