Our Learning

Math - We will finish Topic 3 this week. Students are becoming experts at using distributive property, and will also practice associative property. At home you can support your child by skip counting by different numbers.

Reading - We will focus on strategies for tricky words. Students will practice this independently and during guided reading.

Writing - Students are learning a variety of revising strategies. They will add dialogue, paragraphs, and details.

Science - We are continuing our learning about soil this week. Then will begin discussing renewable and non-renewable energy.
